Position Title:	Biological Intern – Seabirds and Shorebirds (3 vacancies)
Duties:	Duties include but are not limited to: monitoring daily productivity from laying to fledging of common and roseate terns; conducting daily observational stints and weather observations; trapping and banding terns; lethal and non-lethal predator management (mammalian and avian); tagging horseshoe crabs; erecting piping plover predator exclosures; organized data keeping and entry; general maintenance; and educating the public. Responsibilities may vary due to the strengths of individuals. Intern is required to live in a remote field camp with no electricity or running water for up to one full week at a time.
Qualifications:	Applicants must have the ability to perform the physical duties of the position including being able to hike long distances (extensive beach walking) and being able to lift and carry at least 50 pounds. Applicants must be able to work with minimal supervision, be very independent and easy-going, and be able to work with the public of all ages in a professional manner regarding sensitive conservation issues. Previous experience with beach nesting birds, field work in a field camp setting, data collection, bird identification, and an academic background in wildlife biology, zoology, environmental science or a related field are preferred. Applicants must have a valid driver's license, a social security number, and a bank account located in the United States.
Salary:	Stipend will be $285 per week for 10 weeks through the Student Conservation Association (SCA) and $154 per week for all other weeks. Applicants who have a permanent address within 50 miles of the Refuge will not be paid outside the 10 week SCA appointment. The position includes free housing . For approximately 10 weeks, interns will spend time alternating between two remote field camps on South Monomoy during the work week and will have free dormitory style housing at the Refuge headquarters in Chatham, MA on their days off.
Employment Details:	Internships are 13 to 16 weeks total including 10 weeks as a SCA intern. Intern must be able to start between 4 May and 18 May (absolute latest start date). The position involves working long hours, nights, weekends, and holidays. Schedules may exceed 40 hours per week and will vary frequently in the length of day and start time. Days off may not be consecutive. Staff will live in field camp on the island with other refuge staff for at least 5 days at a time. There is no heat, electricity, or running water in field camp. A background check will be required to gain necessary computer access at the Refuge.
